Aftermath Services Launches Safety And Training Contest

Illinois-based biohazard remediation company gives away funding totaling $10,000 for safety and training programs and personal protective equipment (PPE) kits to first responders

AURORA, IL - On February 25th, Aftermath Services LLC officially launched their Safety and Training Contest. Each year, Aftermath awards PPE kits to first responders nationwide to promote physical protection for those responding to crime scenes, mass shootings and other incidents involving biohazards. This year, in addition to the PPE kits, six departments will win up to $5,000 to fund programs associated with keeping communities and first responders safe -- active shooter drills, safety training programs, additional safety equipment, etc.

Open to first responders nationwide, organizations can enter by submitting a 2-minute video or 500-word essay that explains how the funding and equipment will benefit their community and their officers.

All entries can be submitted online here. Entries for the Aftermath Safety And Training Contest will be accepted until March 29. The winners will be announced on April 3, 2019.

About Aftermath Services LLC

As the nation's largest dedicated crime scene cleanup company, Aftermath Services LLC proudly recognizes the contributions made by first responders. In an effort to provide first responders and law enforcement with access to valuable resources, Aftermath created the annual Safety And Training Contest to help offset the cost of training programs that benefit officers and communities. First responders from around the nation are encouraged to participate in the contest by submitting their entry here. The contest is just one aspect of the Aftermath Cares program, aimed at acknowledging first responders for their ongoing efforts to protect and improve their communities.
